2. Purpose & Scope

Purpose

This policy exists to outline Aeria Solutions Ltd.'s compliance with Part 13 of the Alberta Occupational Health and Safety Code, which governs joint health and safety committees (JHSCs) and health and safety representatives (HSRs). Its objectives include ensuring worker involvement in safety decisions, addressing occupational health concerns, and preventing incidents through structured consultation, addressing gaps in workplace safety governance.

Scope

This policy applies to all work sites required to have a JHSC under section 13 of the OHS Act or an HSR under section 14, including all employees, supervisors, and management at Aeria Solutions Ltd. operational locations in Alberta.

3. Definitions & References

Definitions

- Joint Health and Safety Committee (JHSC): A group of employer and worker representatives responsible for identifying and resolving health and safety issues.
- Health and Safety Representative (HSR): A worker-designated individual to represent workers on health and safety matters in smaller workplaces.
- Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) Code: Alberta's technical rules for workplace health and safety under the OHS Act.

4. Policy Statement

Aeria Solutions Ltd. is committed to complying with Part 13 of the Alberta OHS Code by establishing and maintaining effective JHSCs or HSRs where required. We ensure balanced representation, regular consultation on health and safety matters, and proactive resolution of concerns to foster a collaborative safety culture and meet all legal obligations.

5. Procedures

Step-by-Step Actions

- Committee Establishment: Determine if a JHSC or HSR is required based on site size and hazard levels, then form the group with equal employer and worker representatives.

- Member Selection: Select worker representatives through democratic election and appoint employer representatives.
- Training Provision: Deliver mandatory OHS Code training within 14 days of designation.
- Meeting Scheduling: Hold JHSC meetings at least quarterly or as needed for urgent issues.
- Issue Resolution: Identify, discuss, and resolve health and safety concerns, with minutes and recommendations documented.

Roles & Responsibilities for Each Step

- Committee Establishment: Management and HSE team.
- Member Selection: Worker group for elections; management for appointments.
- Training Provision: HSE Management and external trainers.
- Meeting Scheduling: JHSC co-chairs.
- Issue Resolution: JHSC/HSR members and supervisors.

Tools, Forms, or Checklists to be Used

- JHSC/HSR designation forms
- Election ballots
- Training certificates
- Meeting agendas/minutes templates
- Issue tracking logs.

Safety/Compliance/Quality Requirements

Full adherence to Alberta OHS Code Part 13, including no reprisal for participation and timely response to recommendations (within 14 days where practicable).

Reporting or Escalation Processes

Report unresolved issues to senior management or OHS authorities; escalate imminent hazards immediately to supervisors for stop-work authority.

6. Roles & Responsibilities

- Management : Establish JHSC/HSR as required, provide paid time for meetings/training, respond to recommendations, and ensure no reprisals for participation.
- Supervisors : Cooperate with JHSC/HSR, attend meetings when requested, and implement approved safety measures.
- Staff : Elect/select representatives, participate in consultations, and raise health/safety concerns through the committee.

7. Monitoring, Compliance & Enforcement

- How Compliance Will Be Monitored : Through quarterly JHSC/HSR meeting reviews, annual audits of participation records, and feedback surveys to verify adherence to Part 13.
- Consequences for Non -Compliance : Corrective action plans, retraining, or regulatory reporting for failures; progressive discipline for reprisals against participants.
- Reporting Obligations : All JHSC/HSR recommendations and unresolved issues must be documented and reported to management within 14 days; incidents escalated to OHS authorities as required.
